

Consortium on Individual Development

Session: New faces

CID MEETING
28 March 2019

Anika van der Klis – PhD, UU, WP1, CID PI: René Kager

Background

I am currently finishing my Research Master's in Linguistics at Leiden University. This summer I'll start working as a PhD candidate in CID WP1 at UiL OTS.

Expertise

Language acquisition; Child language; Neurolinguistics; Phonology

CID project

Project title: Development of emotion recognition in relation to linguistic development

With who: René Kager

Simone Dobbelaar – PhD, Leiden University, WP2, CID PI: Eveline Crone

Background

- Psychobiology and Psychology at the University of Amsterdam
- Living in Amsterdam
- PhD in Leiden

Expertise

fMRI, longitudinal research, intervention, prosocial behavior, behavioral control

CID project

Project title: Variations in social environment and the neurocognitive development of social competence

With who: Prof. dr. Eveline Crone, Dr. Anna van Duijvenvoorde & L-CID team

Ties Fakkkel – PhD, UU, WP1, CID PI: Wilma Vollebergh

Background

Research Master Clinical & Health Psychology @ Universiteit Leiden
Running, mindfulness, Greek mythology

Expertise

Socioeconomic status, Social selection and causation,
Adolescent social competence and behavioral control

CID project

“SES differences and the adolescent psychosocial development”
- with Margot Peeters, Wilma Vollebergh, Susan Branje

Heiko Schmengler – PhD, UU, WP1, CID PI: Wilma Vollebergh

Background

Grew up in Germany

Master's in Public Health and Epidemiology from University of Sheffield and French School of Public Health (EHESP), Paris

Bachelor's in the biomedical field from UvA/VU, Amsterdam

Hobbies: travelling, powerlifting, computer games

Expertise

Social Epidemiology, Migration, Health Inequalities, Socioeconomic Status, Youth

CID project

Project title: Socioeconomic Health Inequalities in Adolescence and Young Adulthood

With Margot Peeters and Wilma Vollebergh

Based on TRAILS Study

Katerina Kalamari – PhD, UMCU, WP4, CID PI: Prof. Marian Joels

Background

Bachelor's degree: Psychology (Greece)

Master's degree: Neuroscience and Cognition (Utrecht)

Current position: Utrecht Medical Center - Translational Neuroscience

Expertise

Behavioral Neuroscience, Early-life stress, Pro-social behavior, Empathy, Adolescent and adult social behavior in rodents

CID project

Project title: Early life circumstances and adult functioning: the influence of genetic sensitivity, gender and the impact on social competences

With who: Dr. Rixt van Veen

Sofieke Kevenaar – PhD, VU, WP3, CID PI: prof. dr. Dorret Boomsma

Background

Research Master Psychology, methods and statistics track at Universiteit van Amsterdam
Now: Department of Biological Psychology at Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam
Use methodological and statistical knowledge to research development

Expertise

Twin Models, Educational Achievement, Structural Equation Modeling, Self-control

CID project

The impact of the home environment on academic skills and educational achievement
With prof. dr. Dorret Boomsma, prof. dr. Tineke Oldehinkel, dr. Eveline de Zeeuw, dr. Elsje van Bergen
NTR + CID cohorts & CBS data on educational achievement, self-control and home environment

Marissa Hofstee – PhD, UU, WP1, CID PI: Maja Dekovic

Background

Education/Personal: I grew up in Friesland, studied Pedagogical Sciences in Groningen and Applied Neuroscience in Human Development in Leiden. Before starting my PhD in Utrecht, I worked as a research assistant at different projects and as a pedagogical worker in childcare.

Expertise

Child development
Brain and behavior
Parent-child interaction
Behavioural control

CID project

Project title: The early development of self-regulation

With who: Maja Dekovic and Jorg Huijding

More new PhD introductions 14th November 2019

Zenab Tamimy, WP3, VU
Lina van Drunen, WP2, LU
Zsofia Belteki, WP1, UU

